

GRAY WOLF
Canus lupus

Habitat

They live in forests, deserts, and grasslands.

Food

Sheep, goats, pigs, bison, deer, horses, salmon, seals, rodents, and birds

Predators

They are only vulnerable to predators when they are pups.

Reproduction

They give birth to live young that they raise in a den on a hill or mountainside.

Where are they today?

They are extinct in Manhattan and listed as an endangered species in New York State.