

EASTERN BROWN SNAKE
Storeria dekayi

Habitat

They prefer moist environments in forests and marsh.

They can be found under leaf litter and large logs, or in between rocks.

Food

Earthworms, snails, slugs

Predators

Large birds, owls, foxes, raccoons

Reproduction

Unlike most reptiles, these snakes give birth to live young instead of laying eggs.

Where are they today?

They are very rare in Manhattan